7.2.2. Move-In Report. The purpose of the Move-In Report is to document the condition of the Property prior to Resident taking Possession, it is not intended to create a punch list of repairs to be completed. The Move-In Report shall not be interpreted by either party as a list of representations or promises by the Landlord to repair any cosmetic matters or replace nonfunctional items. All Resident-requested repairs must be in writing pursuant to the notice provision of this Lease. Resident taking Possession of the Property shall be conclusive evidence that the Property is accepted "as is" and "with all faults" by Resident. The Move-In Report shall be used to determine Resident caused damages and pre-existing damages, to properly conduct move-out deductions.

7.3. Move-Out Inspections. Upon Resident vacating the Property, Landlord shall perform a move-out inspection of the Property. Landlord shall provide Resident notice of the move-out inspection and a reasonable opportunity to attend, if required by state law for which the Property is located. During the move-out inspection, the condition of the Property will be reviewed in detail along with the Move-In Report (if applicable) and any photographs of the Property taken prior to Resident taking Possession, or during the mid-year inspection (if applicable). All damages or defect of the Property that were not present and detailed on the Move-In Report will be the Resident's responsibility to repair or remediate. Resident is not responsible for "ordinary wear and tear".

7.4. Deductions. Landlord will deduct all damages notated on during the move-out inspection from Resident's Security Deposit. If the Resident's Security Deposit is not sufficient to indemnify and repay Landlord for all damages, then Resident acknowledges that Landlord may seek to collect the remaining balance not satisfied by the Security Deposit ("Deposit Accounting").

7.5. Ordinary Wear and Tear. For the purposes of this Lease, "ordinary wear and tear" is defined as usual degradation which results from the day to day use of the Property and from lapse of time, such as the normal aging of the Property, its fixtures, flooring, appliances, hardware and finishes, and shall not include any of the following: improper usage, neglect or abuse, failure to clean the Property, failure to return the Property without defect or damage, including but not limited, return any Entry Devices, damage to flooring, fixtures, appliances, walls, amenities, walls, ceilings, toilets, paint, pet odors pet stains, and failure to comply with the maintenance obligations.

7.6. No Interest. - 8.2. Nonsufficient Funds (“NSF”) Fee. Resident agrees they will incur a NSF fee or insufficient funds fee in the amount of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), if they tender a payment per the terms of the Lease and the credit or financial institution, whereupon the payment originated, dishonors or returns the payment for any reason (“NSF Payment”). The NSF fee, plus applicable tax, shall be due and payable as additional rent. Upon the payment being dishonored or returned, Resident agrees the Monthly Rent will be notated as unpaid, a late payment fee will be added to Resident's ledger. Any NSF Payment shall require the Resident to pay by cashier's check, money order, or certified check within 48 hours and must include all charges and additional rent, or Landlord will not accept the partial payment. Following two (2) NSF Payments, Resident will only be allowed to make payments via cashier's check, money order, or certified check. Landlord will apply the payment per the Lease and will not accept two-party checks.
- 8.3. If the Resident fails to remediate the violation, Landlord may, in its discretion, cure the violation and Resident agrees to pay all remediation costs and all fines associated with the violation, which are the Resident's responsibility.
- 8.4. Dispossessory Fee. Legal demand for possession of the Property will be made for late rent or if a returned check is not redeemed in 48 hours followed by a dispossessory warrant filed on or after the tenth (10th) day of the month with the applicable county court. Once a dispossessory warrant is filed, Resident agrees to pay eviction costs, including but not limited to, all other court filing costs and legal costs, and attorney fees associated with the dispossessory warrant. Resident must pay all fees before Monthly

IMPORTANT!

Lead From Paint, Dust, and Soil in and Around Your Home Can Be Dangerous if Not Managed Properly

- Children under 6 years old are most at risk for lead poisoning in your home.
- Lead exposure can harm young children and babies even before they are born.
- Homes, schools, and child care facilities built before 1978 are likely to contain lead-based paint.
- Even children who seem healthy may have dangerous levels of lead in their bodies.
- Disturbing surfaces with lead-based paint or removing lead-based paint improperly can increase the danger to your family.
- People can get lead into their bodies by breathing or swallowing lead dust, or by eating soil or paint chips containing lead.
- People have many options for reducing lead hazards. Generally, lead-based paint that is in good condition is not a hazard (see page 10).

Protect Your Family From Lead in Your Home

Are You Planning to Buy or Rent a Home Built Before 1978?

Did you know that many homes built before 1978 have lead-based paint? Lead from paint, chips, and dust can pose serious health hazards.

Read this entire brochure to learn:

- How lead gets into the body
- How lead affects health
- What you can do to protect your family
- Where to go for more information

Before renting or buying a pre-1978 home or apartment, federal law requires:

- Sellers must disclose known information on lead-based paint or lead-based paint hazards before selling a house.
- Real estate sales contracts must include a specific warning statement about lead-based paint. Buyers have up to 10 days to check for lead.
- Landlords must disclose known information on lead-based paint and lead-based paint hazards before leases take effect. Leases must include a specific warning statement about lead-based paint.

If undertaking renovations, repairs, or painting (RRP) projects in your pre-1978 home or apartment:

- Read EPA's pamphlet, The Lead-Safe Certified Guide to Renovate Right, to learn about the lead-safe work practices that contractors are required to follow when working in your home (see page 12).

Simple Steps to Protect Your Family from Lead Hazards

If you think your home has lead-based paint:

- Don't try to remove lead-based paint yourself.
- Always keep painted surfaces in good condition to minimize deterioration.
- Get your home checked for lead hazards. Find a certified inspector or risk assessor at epa.gov/lead.
- Talk to your landlord about fixing surfaces with peeling or chipping paint.
- Regularly clean floors, window sills, and other surfaces.
- Take precautions to avoid exposure to lead dust when remodeling.
- When renovating, repairing, or painting, hire only EPA- or state-approved Lead-Safe certified renovation firms.
- Before buying, renting, or renovating your home, have it checked for lead-based paint.
- Consult your health care provider about testing your children for lead. Your pediatrician can check for lead with a simple blood test.
- Wash children's hands, bottles, pacifiers, and toys often.
- Make sure children eat healthy, low-fat foods high in iron, calcium, and vitamin C.
- Remove shoes or wipe soil off shoes before entering your house.

Lead Gets into the Body in Many Ways

Adults and children can get lead into their bodies if they:

- Breathe in lead dust (especially during activities such as renovations, repairs, or painting that disturb painted surfaces).
- Swallow lead dust that has settled on food, food preparation surfaces, and other places.
- Eat paint chips or soil that contains lead.

Lead is especially dangerous to children under the age of 6.

- At this age, children's brains and nervous systems are more sensitive to the damaging effects of lead.
- Children's growing bodies absorb more lead.
- Babies and young children often put their hands and other objects in their mouths. These objects can have lead dust on them.

Women of childbearing age should know that lead is dangerous to a developing fetus.

- Women with a high lead level in their system before or during pregnancy risk exposing the fetus to lead through the placenta during fetal development.

State and Local Health and Environmental Agencies

Some states, tribes, and cities have their own rules related to lead-based paint. Check with your local agency to see which laws apply to you. Most agencies can also provide information on finding a lead abatement firm in your area, and on possible sources of financial aid for reducing lead hazards. Receive up-to-date address and phone information for your state or local contacts on the Web at epa.gov/lead, or contact the National Lead Information Center at 1-800-424-LEAD.

- Lead smelters or other industries that release lead into the air.
- Your job. If you work with lead, you could bring it home on your body or clothes. Shower and change clothes before coming home. Launder your work clothes separately from the rest of your family's clothes.
- Hobbies that use lead, such as making pottery or stained glass, or refinishing furniture. Call your local health department for information about hobbies that may use lead.
- Old toys and furniture may have been painted with lead-containing paint. Older toys and other children's products may have parts that contain lead.⁴
- Food and liquids cooked or stored in lead crystal or lead-glazed pottery or porcelain may contain lead.
- Folk remedies, such as "greta" and "azarcon," used to treat an upset stomach.

Health Effects of Lead

Lead affects the body in many ways. It is important to know that even exposure to low levels of lead can severely harm children.

In children, exposure to lead can cause:

- Nervous system and kidney damage
- Learning disabilities, attention-deficit disorder, and decreased intelligence
- Speech, language, and behavior problems
- Poor muscle coordination
- Decreased muscle and bone growth
- Hearing damage

While low-lead exposure is most common, exposure to high amounts of lead can have devastating effects on children, including seizures, unconsciousness, and in some cases, death.

Although children are especially susceptible to lead exposure, lead can be dangerous for adults, too.

In adults, exposure to lead can cause:

- Harm to a developing fetus
- Increased chance of high blood pressure during pregnancy
- Fertility problems (in men and women)
- High blood pressure
- Digestive problems
- Nerve disorders
- Memory and concentration problems
- Muscle and joint pain

⁴ In 1978, the federal government banned toys, other children's products, and furniture with lead-containing paint. In 2008, the federal government banned lead in most children's products. The federal government currently bans lead in excess of 100 ppm by weight in most children's products.

Check Your Family for Lead

Get your children and home tested if you think your home has lead.

Children's blood lead levels tend to increase rapidly from 6 to 12 months of age, and tend to peak at 18 to 24 months of age.

Consult your doctor for advice on testing your children. A simple blood test can detect lead. Blood lead tests are usually recommended for:

- Children at ages 1 and 2
- Children or other family members who have been exposed to high levels of lead
- Children who should be tested under your state or local health screening plan

Your doctor can explain what the test results mean and if more testing will be needed.

Other Sources of Lead

Lead in Drinking Water

The most common sources of lead in drinking water are lead pipes, faucets, and fixtures.

Lead pipes are more likely to be found in older cities and homes built before 1986.

You can't smell or taste lead in drinking water.

To find out for certain if you have lead in drinking water, have your water tested.

Remember older homes with a private well can also have plumbing materials that contain lead.

Important Steps You Can Take to Reduce Lead in Drinking Water

- Use only cold water for drinking, cooking and making baby formula. Remember, boiling water does not remove lead from water.
- Before drinking, flush your home's pipes by running the tap, taking a shower, doing laundry, or doing a load of dishes.
- Regularly clean your faucet's screen (also known as an aerator).
- If you use a filter certified to remove lead, don't forget to read the directions to learn when to change the cartridge. Using a filter after it has expired can make it less effective at removing lead.

Contact your water company to determine if the pipe that connects your home to the water main (called a service line) is made from lead. Your area's water company can also provide information about the lead levels in your system's drinking water.

For more information about lead in drinking water, please contact EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791. If you have other questions about lead poisoning prevention, call 1-800 424-LEAD.*

Call your local health department or water company to find out about testing your water, or visit epa.gov/safewater for EPA's lead in drinking water information. Some states or utilities offer programs to pay for water testing for residents. Contact your state or local water company to learn more.

Renovating, Repairing or Painting a Home with Lead-Based Paint

If you hire a contractor to conduct renovation, repair, or painting (RRP) projects in your pre-1978 home or childcare facility (such as pre-school and kindergarten), your contractor must:

- Be a Lead-Safe Certified firm approved by EPA or an EPA-authorized state program
- Use qualified trained individuals (Lead-Safe Certified renovators) who follow specific lead-safe work practices to prevent lead contamination
- Provide a copy of EPA's lead hazard information document, The Lead-Safe Certified Guide to Renovate Right

RRP contractors working in pre-1978 homes and childcare facilities must follow lead-safe work practices that:

- Contain the work area. The area must be contained so that dust and debris do not escape from the work area. Warning signs must be put up, and plastic or other impermeable material and tape must be used.
- Avoid renovation methods that generate large amounts of lead-contaminated dust. Some methods generate so much lead-contaminated dust that their use is prohibited. They are:
 - Open-flame burning or torching
 - Sanding, grinding, planing, needle gunning, or blasting with power tools and equipment not equipped with a shroud and HEPA vacuum attachment
 - Using a heat gun at temperatures greater than 1100°F
- Clean up thoroughly. The work area should be cleaned up daily. When all the work is done, the area must be cleaned up using special cleaning methods.
- Dispose of waste properly. Collect and seal waste in a heavy duty bag or sheeting. When transported, ensure that waste is contained to prevent release of dust and debris.

To learn more about EPA's requirements for RRP projects, visit epa.gov/getleadsafe, or read The Lead-Safe Certified Guide to Renovate Right.

Where Lead-Based Paint Is Found

In general, the older your home or childcare facility, the more likely it has lead-based paint.¹

Many homes, including private, federally-assisted, federally-owned housing, and childcare facilities built before 1978 have lead-based paint. In 1978, the federal government banned consumer uses of lead-containing paint.²

Learn how to determine if paint is lead-based paint on page 7.

Lead can be found:

- In homes and childcare facilities in the city, country, or suburbs,
- In private and public single-family homes and apartments,
- On surfaces inside and outside of the house, and
- In soil around a home. (Soil can pick up lead from exterior paint or other sources, such as past use of leaded gas in cars.)

Learn more about where lead is found at epa.gov/lead.

¹ "Lead-based paint" is currently defined by the federal government as paint with lead levels greater than or equal to 1.0 milligram per square centimeter (mg/cm²), or more than 0.5% by weight.

² "Lead-containing paint" is currently defined by the federal government as lead in new dried paint in excess of 90 parts per million (ppm) by weight.

Identifying Lead-Based Paint and Lead-Based Paint Hazards

Deteriorating lead-based paint (peeling, chipping, chalking, cracking, or damaged paint) is a hazard and needs immediate attention. Lead-based paint may also be a hazard when found on surfaces that children can chew or that get a lot of wear and tear, such as:

- On windows and window sills
- Doors and door frames
- Stairs, railings, banisters, and porches

Lead-based paint is usually not a hazard if it is in good condition and if it is not on an impact or friction surface like a window.

Lead dust can form when lead-based paint is scraped, sanded, or heated. Lead dust also forms when painted surfaces containing lead bump or rub together. Lead paint chips and dust can get on surfaces and objects that people touch. Settled lead dust can reenter the air when the home is vacuumed or swept, or when people walk through it. EPA currently defines the following levels of lead in dust as hazardous:

- 40 micrograms per square foot ($\mu\text{g}/\text{ft}^2$) and higher for floors, including carpeted floors
- 250 $\mu\text{g}/\text{ft}^2$ and higher for interior window sills

Lead in soil can be a hazard when children play in bare soil or when people bring soil into the house on their shoes. EPA currently defines the following levels of lead in soil as hazardous:

- 400 parts per million (ppm) and higher in play areas of bare soil
- 1,200 ppm (average) and higher in bare soil in the remainder of the yard

Remember, lead from paint chips—which you can see—and lead dust—which you may not be able to see—both can be hazards.

The only way to find out if paint, dust, or soil lead hazards exist is to test for them. The next page describes how to do this.

If your home has had lead abatement work done or if the housing is receiving federal assistance, once the work is completed, dust cleanup activities must be conducted until clearance testing indicates that lead dust levels are below the following levels:

- 40 micrograms per square foot ($\mu\text{g}/\text{ft}^2$) for floors, including carpeted floors
- 250 $\mu\text{g}/\text{ft}^2$ for interior windows sills
- 400 $\mu\text{g}/\text{ft}^2$ for window troughs

For help in locating certified lead abatement professionals in your area, call your state or local agency (see pages 14 and 15), or visit epa.gov/lead, or call 1-800-424-LEAD.

Reducing Lead Hazards

Disturbing lead-based paint or removing lead improperly can increase the hazard to your family by spreading even more lead dust around the house.

- In addition to day-to-day cleaning and good nutrition, you can temporarily reduce lead-based paint hazards by taking actions, such as repairing damaged painted surfaces and planting grass to cover lead-contaminated soil. These actions are not permanent solutions and will need ongoing attention.
- You can minimize exposure to lead when renovating, repairing, or painting by hiring an EPA- or state-certified renovator who is trained in the use of lead-safe work practices. If you are a do-it-yourselfer, learn how to use lead-safe work practices in your home.
- To remove lead hazards permanently, you should hire a certified lead abatement contractor. Abatement (or permanent hazard elimination) methods include removing, sealing, or enclosing lead-based paint with special materials. Just painting over the hazard with regular paint is not permanent control.

Always use a certified contractor who is trained to address lead hazards safely.

- Hire a Lead-Safe Certified firm (see page 12) to perform renovation, repair, or painting (RRP) projects that disturb painted surfaces.
- To correct lead hazards permanently, hire a certified lead abatement professional. This will ensure your contractor knows how to work safely and has the proper equipment to clean up thoroughly.

Certified contractors will employ qualified workers and follow strict safety rules as set by their state or by the federal government.

Checking Your Home for Lead

You can get your home tested for lead in several different ways:

- A lead-based paint inspection tells you if your home has lead-based paint and where it is located. It won't tell you whether your home currently has lead hazards. A trained and certified testing professional, called a lead-based paint inspector, will conduct a paint inspection using methods, such as:
 - Portable x-ray fluorescence (XRF) machine
 - Lab tests of paint samples
- A risk assessment tells you if your home currently has any lead hazards from lead in paint, dust, or soil. It also tells you what actions to take to address any hazards. A trained and certified testing professional, called a risk assessor, will:
 - Sample paint that is deteriorated on doors, windows, floors, stairs, and walls
 - Sample dust near painted surfaces and sample bare soil in the yard
 - Get lab tests of paint, dust, and soil samples
- A combination inspection and risk assessment tells you if your home has any lead-based paint and if your home has any lead hazards, and where both are located.

Be sure to read the report provided to you after your inspection or risk assessment is completed, and ask questions about anything you do not understand.

In preparing for renovation, repair, or painting work in a pre-1978 home, Lead-Safe Certified renovators (see page 12) may:

- Take paint chip samples to determine if lead-based paint is present in the area planned for renovation and send them to an EPA-recognized lead lab for analysis. In housing receiving federal assistance, the person collecting these samples must be a certified lead-based paint inspector or risk assessor
- Use EPA-recognized tests kits to determine if lead-based paint is absent (but not in housing receiving federal assistance)
- Presume that lead-based paint is present and use lead-safe work practices

There are state and federal programs in place to ensure that testing is done safely, reliably, and effectively. Contact your state or local agency for more information, visit epa.gov/lead, or call 1-800-424-LEAD (5323) for a list of contacts in your area.³

What You Can Do Now to Protect Your Family

If you suspect that your house has lead-based paint hazards, you can take some immediate steps to reduce your family's risk:

- If you rent, notify your landlord of peeling or chipping paint.
- Keep painted surfaces clean and free of dust. Clean floors, window frames, window sills, and other surfaces weekly. Use a mop or sponge with warm water and a general all-purpose cleaner. (Remember: never mix ammonia and bleach products together because they can form a dangerous gas.)
- Carefully clean up paint chips immediately without creating dust.
- Thoroughly rinse sponges and mop heads often during cleaning of dirty or dusty areas, and again afterward.
- Wash your hands and your children's hands often, especially before they eat and before nap time and bed time.
- Keep play areas clean. Wash bottles, pacifiers, toys, and stuffed animals regularly.
- Keep children from chewing window sills or other painted surfaces, or eating soil.
- When renovating, repairing, or painting, hire only EPA- or state-approved Lead-Safe Certified renovation firms (see page 12).
- Clean or remove shoes before entering your home to avoid tracking in lead from soil.
- Make sure children eat nutritious, low-fat meals high in iron, and calcium, such as spinach and dairy products. Children with good diets absorb less lead.

³ Hearing- or speech-challenged individuals may access this number through TTY by calling the Federal Relay Service at 1-800-877-8339.

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act

If you are a member of the military, to promote and provide servicemember mission readiness, there are special laws that can have a substantial influence on your rights in property rental. Perhaps one of the most important areas affected by these laws is that of landlord-tenant law. FirstKey Homes values the contributions that its renters who are servicemembers make to this Country and want to help provide you with information on important rights you have as a servicemember.

As each state has different laws that effect a servicemember's rights in the landlord-tenant relationship, each case is unique and requires individual attention from a qualified member of your legal assistance team. However, general information regarding individual rights in such cases is provided below and should be considered in any military landlord-tenant matter.

Right to terminate leases early. Under section 535 of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (50 USC App. §§ 501-596, “SCRA”), a servicemember has the right to terminate a lease, if after signing the lease: the tenant enters military service (which includes a reservist being called to active duty); or the tenant signs the lease while in military service, and then receives military orders for a Permanent Change of Station (“PCS”) move, or to deploy, or as an individual in support of a military operation, with a military unit for a period of not less than 90 days.

Notice to terminate. If you are a military tenant, in order to terminate your lease under the SCRA, you must give your landlord written notice to terminate your lease, accompanied by a copy of your official orders or a letter from the command indicating a deployment. The notice must be “delivered” to your landlord by hand, private business carrier, or by U.S. mail, return receipt requested.

A form of the notice that is attached can be used to give notice of termination under the SCRA, although the use of this form is purely optional and is provided solely for your convenience. You can use this form (or any other form designed for such use) or provide notice by letter.

Effective date of lease termination. The SCRA says that the lease terminates “30 days after the first date on which the next rental payment is due and payable after the date on which the notice...is delivered.” For example, if you deliver notice to your landlord on the 20th of the January, and normally pay rent on the 1st of each month, your lease would end on 1 March, (you must pay February’s rent). Notice early in the month will result in payment of two months’ rent.

Family members who are also tenants. In cases where both a servicemember and a non-military spouse are tenants (have signed the lease), the servicemember’s notice of termination is good for the non-military tenant as well. In other words, your landlord cannot sue a non-military tenant spouse for nonperformance under the lease where the servicemember tenant has given proper notice under the SCRA to terminate the lease. (See § 535(a) of the SCRA.)

Evictions. Under the SCRA (§ 531), a servicemember tenant and dependents may not be evicted from a rented residence (during a period of military service) without a court order. Note that this protection only applies to leases covering the principal residence of the servicemember, and for leases less than a certain amount specified in the statute. If an eviction case is started against a servicemember whose ability to pay the agreed rent is materially affected by military service (for example, a reservist that suffers a day decrease after being called to active duty), then the court can delay the proceedings, or adjust the rent under the lease to accommodate the interests of the parties.)

The material in this notice is intended to alert you to important rights you may have pursuant to the SCRA. This notice is not intended to be legal advice. Each individual's situation is unique and may require legal advice and assistance. We recommend you speak with a licensed attorney before completing and sending any notice contemplated by the SCRA.

As a courtesy, we have provided this template letter and instructions, which may be appropriate for some situations. This content is not intended to be legal advice. We recommend you speak with a licensed attorney before completing and sending this letter.

RE: Rank and Full Name's Lease Agreement at Street Address, City, State Zip Code

Dear FirstKey Homes:

Pursuant to the Servicemembers' Civil Relief Act ("SCRA") 50 U.S.C. Section 3955, this letter is my formal written notice to terminate the lease agreement for the residential property located at the above referenced address.

I am currently serving on active duty with the Branch of Armed Forces. I received orders to deploy in support of Operation Name for 90 days or longer / I received orders for a permanent change of station to New Duty Station. The SCRA states a servicemember may terminate a residential lease 30 days after the first date of the next rental payment. My next rental payment is due on Date; therefore, this lease shall terminate on Date + 30 Days.

Under the SCRA, all unpaid rental amounts for the period preceding the date of termination shall be prorated. The SCRA prohibits any early lease termination charges, penalties, or concession fees. All amounts held in security shall be returned according to the laws of this State. You may forward my security deposit to Forwarding Address.

Please find the copy of My Orders to Deploy / PCS / Letter from CO.

If you have any questions or concerns, you may contact me at the above address, or my commanding officer's address on the attached letter.

Respectfully Submitted,

Rank and Full Name
